Welcome to the future of music

The future of music is no longer only about Vinyl or CD's on the shelf, but all digital music stored on a computer, portable media player or smart phone. You can enjoy your digital music via a Marantz music system in high quality sound without any difficulty. Simply connect your Marantz music system to your home network and you are ready to go!

And the possibilities are enormous – you can share your music stored on your network or stream music directly from your iPhone, iPod touch or iPad to your music system via the AirPlay functionality. Besides that you have access to all music on the internet to over 14,000 music stations online. It has never been that easy to find the right music for the right moment - immediately.

We at Marantz are proud to announce that a new star is born: The Marantz Network Series.

NA7004 Network Audio Player

Enable your Hi-Fi system to join the future

If you already own a valuable HiFi system (or consider buying one) and seek to enjoy the world of new media including high resolution audio playback, here's the solution for you: the NA7004 network audio player. It's nothing less than the next generation source for your HiFi system, enabling you to access new media with the best audio performance. All new music formats receive the same fussy treatment as used in our high-end CD Players, using our own HDAM-SA2 technology in combination with the very best components. This ensures that your (digital) music, be it internet radio, music from your PC or DAB/DAB+ FM radio, will be played with our heritage sound quality. You wouldn't settle for anything less anyway, would you?

Melody Media

All-in-one Solution

The Melody Media is your stylishly designed one body solution, offering you access to new media, CD-playback, DAB/DAB+/FM and USB connectivity. Simply connect it to the network by one cable, add a pair of speakers and you are ready to go. The Melody Media is a Plug & Play solution especially for those who are looking for quality sound but want to keep it simple. Or small. Make it the center piece of your living-room or place it in the office, bedroom or wherever you like. And don't be fooled by its size. We designed it with the same philosophy as we design all of our HiFi components, ensuring you will get the genuine Marantz sound quality.
